Number of awards and recognitions received for extension & outreach activities from Government / other recognized bodies.

Nature and basis of awards/ recognitions received for extension and outreach activities of the institution from Government/ other recognized bodies year wise during last five years.

The creation of a healthy nation—healthy India depends greatly on community education, awareness, and engagement. India reached its goal of elimination poliomyelitis and implementing Pulse Polio Immunization and Intensified Pulse Polio Immunization programmes, in which oral polio vaccine is given to children under the age of five. As part of the global drive to eradicate poliomyelitis, our final-year students actively participated in the activity of giving the oral polio vaccine to children in under five age group. Our institute has received many awards for such activities which are enclosed in attachments.

India shares 1/4th global burden of another communicable disease “ tuberculosis.” In order to eliminate tuberculosis from our country it is an important initiative taken by our college to make people aware about earlier detection of tuberculosis and significance of treatment completion. It was done through skit 'JagarKshayrogacha' as well as by conducting lecture on tuberculosis for nearby villagers. In addition our students participated in the house to house survey on “ SanyuktKusthrogShodhMohim V Abhiyan&SakriyaKshayrogMohim V AsansargjanyaRogpratibandhJagrukataAbhiyan” for which Primary health center awarded us.

Vitamin A deficiency is one of the preventable causes of blindness. Refractive errors also play a role in blindness. In light of this, we conducted screening of schoolchildren in our adopted village to asses for vitamin A deficiency and identify refractive errors. The school gave us a reward for this activity. Malaria and other mosquito-borne illnesses like dengue fever are other increasing health issues in rural India. In June each year, which is observed as "Anti Malaria Month," our college consistently undertook the activity of raising awareness about mosquito-borne diseases and educating community members on "how to avoid mosquito breeding and personal protection against mosquito bites." Our institute has received many awards for such activities which are enclosed in attachments.

The pattern of death in India compels us to take action to lower infant and childhood mortality. Breastfeeding is the most efficient remedy for this. Our college participates in "Breastfeeding Week" every year by giving lectures and leading group discussions for expectant and nursing mothers attending ANC clinics or Immunization Programs. For carrying out such events, we use various audiovisual aids, posters, and other teaching materials. Our institute has received many awards for such activities which are enclosed in attachment.

Malnutrition and lifestyle disorders are two of the main health issues in the nation. We regularly conducted nutritional and general health assessment programmes for schoolchildren and other villagers.

In the upcoming year, we hope to improve this activity under the headline of "Anna He Purnabramha - Healthy Diet - Healthy India."
