Experiential Teaching Learning : Report - 03/04/2024

As per the schedule activity of experiential learning on " Haemoglobin Estimation" started at 12 . 10 pm . Third and fourth year students participated in the activity. Tamboli Alisha from final BHMS started the activity. Andhale Sayali from final BHMS explained structure of haemoglobin in detail. Maniyar Fatima, final BHMS student, further discussed normal levels of haemoglobin and the conditions with increased and decreased levels of haemoglobin. The participants added valuable information about different types of anaemia with emphasis on clinical manifestations of anaemia.

The activity continued by third BHMS students, Sneha and Mrunal, Siddhi, Anisha further applied aspects related to the use of homoeopathic medicines like Ferrum group remedies, Aletris farinosa, Natrum muriaticum, Pulsatilla nigricans, Picric acid, Cinchona officinalis, Cyclamen europaeum, Calcarea phosphorica.

This discussion was followed by interactive session which comprised of questions and answers sessions. This helped to evaluate understanding of the students.

This practice, which was focused on the students, aided in the development of the cognitive domain.

Experiential Teaching Learning : Report - 24/04/2024

As per the schedule, activity of experiential learning on "Intracath Insertion" started at 12.15 pm. Third and fourth year students along with interns participated in the activity. Mali Meghna from final BHMS started the activity. Kamble Gunjan and Nagda Shobha from final BHMS actively participated along with Anushya Yesudas, Chaudhary Sajida and Dongre Sneha, from third BHMS.

The students initially explained the parts of intracath, followed by the equipments required for intracath insertion. Gunjan added information about the procedure along with audiovisual aid. This discussion was followed by explanation on indications and contraindication of IV canula insertion. Finally concluding talk covered complications and summary of wide bore canula with guaze 14, 16, 17, 18 and 20, 22 and paediatric canula with guaze 24, 26, along with their colour codes, length and flow rate.

This discussion was followed by interactive session which comprised of questions and answers sessions. This helped to evaluate understanding of the students.

This practice, which was focused on the students, aided in the development of the cognitive domain.

Experiential Teaching Learning : Report - 05/06/2024

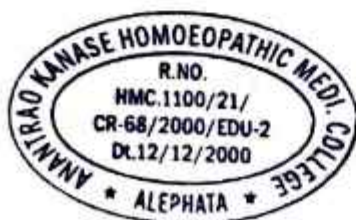

As per the schedule, activity of experiential learning on "Case Presentation" started at 12.10 pm. Third and fourth year students actively participated in the activity under guidance of Dr. Soman Sushrut, Dr. Asare Asare, Dr. Joshi Ishwari and Dr. Thorat Sandhya, from department of Repertory, Organon of Medicine, Homoeopathic Materia Medica and Community medicine respectively.

Dr. Soman, presented a case of 70 year old male patient, retired bus driver by occupation, who started feeling pain in left knee followed by involvement of right knee. As per patients opinion his complaints started after taking 2 doses of COVID vaccine 3 years back. In addition, he complained of tingling and numbness in both heels.

The video recording of case taking was displayed in front of students to observe the patient, where students observed calm and quiet nature of patient, his strong desire to remain independent at physical level. Students also observed knee joint examination of patient and SLR test performed for this patient. Dr. Soman explained the positive findings of clinical examination and findings on X ray.

Following this interactive session conducted for understating various aspects like maintaining cause, miasmatic background, construction of rubrics, repertorisation, remedy differentiation, remedy selection, etc.

This practice, which was focused on the students, aided in the development of the cognitive domain.

Experiential Teaching Learning : Report - 15/05/2024

As per the schedule, activity of experiential learning on "Significance of elevated and reduced values of ESR & PCV" started at 12.15 pm. Third and fourth year students participated in the activity. Kadlak Aditi from final BHMS started the activity. Pimpre Shivani from final BHMS actively participated along with Khandekar Trupti and Khedekar sakshi, from third BHMS.

The students initially explained about ESR, how to estimate ESR with Wintrobe and Westergren method, inflammatory conditions that shows elevated value of ESR in comparison with normal parameters for males and females. Students from final BHMS added valuable information about PCV and medical conditions showing increased and decreased PCV. This discussion was followed by interactive session which comprised of questions and answers sessions. This helped to evaluate understanding of the students.

This practice, which was focused on the students, aided in the development of the cognitive domain.

Experiential Teaching Learning : Report - 08/05/2024

As per the schedule, activity of experiential learning on "Blood indices and it's significance in diagnosis of anaemia" started at 12.15 pm. Third and fourth year students participated in the activity. Jadhav Sharvari from final BHMS started the activity. Markad Snehal, Khaire Ruchita from final BHMS actively participated along with Hande Nikita, Ghatul Sakshi and Dhruve Shreyal, from third BHMS.

The students initially explained about anaemia and various types of anaemia, commonly advised laboratory tests for diagnosis of anaemia, method of blood collection and transport of blood sample to laboratory. Further in detail discussion was done about various red blood cell indices like MCV, MCH, MCHC, RDW, appropriate interpretation of these indices in diagnosis of iron deficiency megaloblastic and dimorphic anaemia.

This discussion was followed by interactive session which comprised of questions and answers sessions. This helped to evaluate understanding of the students.

This practice, which was focused on the students, aided in the development of the cognitive domain.
